Govan-Partick Bridge progress update – Report noted.

4 There was heard a report by Paul MacAlindon, Artistic Director, The Glasgow Barons, regarding details of a festival for the opening of the Govan-Partck Bridge, advising

(1) of the free public event to celebrate the opening of the bridge on Saturday 7th September 2024, which would open to the public from 10.00am

(2) of the programme of events around Water Row in Govan from 10am-8pm, on Saturday 7th September, which had been organised by the Govan based charity Glasgow Barons and that further information could be found at https://www.glasgowbarons.com/govan-footbridge-festival;

(3) of the annual Clyde Built Festival, which would be held at the Riverside Museum from 10am-7pm on Saturday 7th and Sunday 8th September and that further information could be found at https://www.clydebuiltfestival.com/; and

(4) that some road closures would be in place to allow public access to the event and the stalls etc.

After consideration, the Partnership noted

(a) the report and thanked Mr MacAlindon for the update; and

(b) that Mr MacAlindon would liaise with Sergeant Madden with regard to the logistics for policing the event.
