South Locality	Final report of the NHS GG&C Health & Wellbeing Survey for South Locality: 2022-23 HWB Survey South - Final Report.pdf HSCP Planning update: Review of Access to Social Care – April '24: • The Glasgow City Health and Social Care Partnership hosted a Locality Engagement Forum in the South, presented by Stephen Fitzpatrick (Assistant Chief Officer, Older People's Services and South Locality). Presenting on the review of access to social care support. • The discussions revolved around the integration of third-sector organisations in providing social support, funding challenges, and strategic shifts in service delivery. • The following themes were identified throughout the discussion: • Third-Sector Involvement and Funding: There is a significant focus on incorporating third-sector organisations like Epilepsy Scotland to address moderate to low-level needs, leveraging community assets more effectively. • Strategic Funding and Service Delivery: Glasgow City Health and Social Care Partnership is navigating an aging population with a 25% increase expected over the next decade, which poses challenges to maintaining service levels within constrained budgets. Discussions highlighted the 15th of May eligibility criteria revision and addressing these demographic shifts. • Emphasis was placed on maintaining 98% of the budget to protect frontline services, with only 2% projected savings, ensuring critical services are not compromised. • Assessment Processes and Personal Care: Assessments will retain a human element, with no fixed caps on services and decisions made by social workers. There is a planned focus on community hubs and reducing unnecessary bureaucratic involvement, aiming to enhance community-based support and reduce the load on statutory services. Mental Health Strategy Review - September '24 • Members of the South Locality have been invited to engage with NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde, in partnership with local Health and Social Care Partnership via face-to-face and online sessions. This is to ensure the residents within our localities have the opportunity to have their say on how services are delivered.

	• As part of NHSGGC refreshed Mental Health Strategy for 2023-28, they are looking at how it can deliver this, and how it currently provides in-patient mental health services. Shifting the balance of care towards a community-based model will allow services to be delivered earlier and reduce the need for in-patient care. It will also allow mental health services to be more cost-effective, and better supported to meet the needs of patients closer to their home. • The public engagement events held during August and September are for the Locality Engagement Forum and the wider public to share their views on the future of mental health services. All feedback gathered during the engagement phase will be used to help plan services for patients and carers, and to improve the way these are delivered. • The link for more information and to sign up for this event can be found here: https://www.nhsggc.scot/public-invited-to-share-views-on-future-of-mental-health-services/ Residential Day Services Review – September '24 • Glasgow City Health and Social Care Partnership (HSCP) is reviewing the range of day services it provides to support older people in their communities and across Glasgow City. • Residents of the South Locality have been invited to participate in our online engagement forum to discuss the services that are on offer, and how we can further meet the needs of our communities and stakeholders in the South. This will be one of three engagement events with Locality Engagement Forums also taking place in the North East and North West. • Members of the HSCP Residential Day Service Team wish to engage with local communities on the main elements of the proposed review. Robin Wallace, Head of Older People, Residential and Day Care Services will attend this next meeting of the South Locality Online Engagement Forum. • As part of this review, residents of the South Locality have been invited to participate in an ongoing Poll, which closes on the 1st September. The details of which can be found following this link: https://www.glasgow.gov.uk/article/9878/ South Mental Health & Suicide Prevention Network: open to anyone who has an interest in improving mental health and preventing suicide in the South Glasgow area, membership includes Health, Education, Police, and Third/Voluntary Sector. The network aims to improve the coordination of local mental health and suicide prevention activities; identify gaps in service provision and resources; build mental health capacity and raise awareness within communities and the workforce. The network meets bi-monthly both online and face-to-face. Contact: melihcaner.inancli@nhs.scot

	Glasgow City HSCP (South Locality) are key partners in the Glasgow City Food Plan. To support the delivery of elements within the City Food Plan, South Health Improvement Team will be delivering across vulnerable communities, 12 Cooking Skills Courses, with each course having 6 participants, all of whom will take home what they make and will also be provided with ingredients. In addition, there are 12 Cookery Demonstrations at which 12-15 people will get to take home ingredients packs to recreate the meals at home for themselves and their families. To support capacity building and increase employment opportunities, there has been one Royal Environmental Health Institute for Scotland (REHIS) accredited Training Courses, providing participants with the opportunity to become Community Chefs and also REHIS Elementary Food Hygiene and Elementary Food & Health course, which provide participants who pass, with a recognised qualification. All the mentioned courses are free of charge and delivered in the community.
