4.5 Additional Pathways

Young Ambassadors Programme

The Young Ambassadors Programme is a national initiative devised by sportscotland that aims to empower young people to promote sport and physical activity within their schools and local communities. This programme is designed to cultivate leadership skills, boost confidence, and foster a positive sporting culture. Its key components include:

Leadership and Role Modelling:

Ambassadors act as inspiring role models, encouraging their peers to engage in sports. They develop vital leadership and public speaking skills, which are transferable to a range of career and educational contexts.

Community Engagement:

The programme focuses on reaching out to schools and communities to promote inclusive participation in sport. Young Ambassadors work on projects and events that raise awareness of the benefits of physical activity and healthy lifestyles.

Skill Development:

Through workshops, mentoring, and hands-on experiences, participants gain practical skills in communication, teamwork, and event organisation. This not only helps them lead initiatives effectively but also enhances their personal development.

By nurturing these competencies, the Young Ambassadors Programme plays a critical role in the broader vision of the Glasgow PEPASS initiative, ensuring that every participant can contribute meaningfully to the sporting community and beyond.

246 Young Ambassadors 2023/2024

All were provided with the opportunity to gain a Saltire Award (Scottish Government Volunteering Recognition Scheme)

• PEPASS Modern Apprentice Programme:

The PEPASS Modern Apprentice Programme has been running successfully since 2019 with a clear vision: to upskill young people, increase their employability and prepare them for future positive destinations. Modern Apprentices engage in a nearly two-year journey, beginning with an induction and then working alongside an Active Schools mentor across the city. This "learning on the job" approach enables them to contribute to the team's key priorities while gaining invaluable practical experience.

Qualifications and Training:

Apprentices achieve a Level 2 SVQ (SCQF Level 6) in Active Leisure, Learning, and Wellbeing. In addition to their core qualification, they complete mandatory enhancements that support their ongoing learning and development. The programme offers a variety of opportunities to broaden their horizons and develop multiple skills through both on-the-job training and additional courses.

Pathway to Future Success:

The apprenticeship is designed to support young people in navigating their next steps. Many Modern Apprentices go on to work in various capacities—whether as co-workers in partner organisations, Education staff across the city or as students pursuing further education at college or university. For others, the apprenticeship serves as a bridge to full-time employment. The success stories of our graduates attest to the pivotal role the Modern Apprenticeship has played in helping them achieve their goals, with our current cohort on track to complete their apprenticeship in July 2025.

5 TARGETED PROGRAMMES

Our targeted programmes are designed to champion equality, diversity and inclusion by ensuring that every pupil has the opportunity to thrive. We focus on engaging groups that have traditionally been underrepresented, including girls, pupils with disabilities, individuals from diverse ethnic backgrounds, pupils with care experiences and those facing financial barriers. With over 100 dedicated programmes delivered each academic session, we tailor our support to meet the unique needs of these inactive target groups, creating a more inclusive and dynamic participation environment for all.

5.1 Target Programme Highlights:

The Inclusive Holiday Programme – Disability / ASN

The Inclusive Holiday Programme has significantly enhanced accessibility and participation for children with diverse needs during school holidays. Designed to provide an enriching and supportive environment, the programme ensures that children with disabilities or additional support requirements can engage in various activities alongside their peers.

Programme Schedule & Attendance:

- The programme runs during all major school holidays (summer, Easter, and half-term breaks).
- On average, 50 sessions are held annually, with daily sessions running throughout each holiday period.
- Each session accommodates 20–30 children, ensuring personalised support.
- In the past year, over 600 children participated, with 85% attending multiple sessions.

Key Outcomes:

- Increased Participation: Over 85% of parents reported that their child had never accessed similar activities before due to accessibility barriers.
- Enhanced Social Inclusion: 92% of children expressed feeling more included and confident in group settings after attending the programme.
- Family Support: 78% of parents and caregivers highlighted the programme as a vital source of respite, reducing stress and improving overall well-being.

5.2 Refugee and Asylum Seeker Football Programme

One of the standout successes of our work is the Refugee and Asylum Seeker Football Programme, delivered in partnership with Pollok United Football Club. Every week, 60 young people from secondary schools across the South Side—and beyond—come together to play, connect, and grow.

Before the football sessions, we run a homework club, where an EAL teacher provides vital learning support, ensuring that education remains at the heart of what we do.

But this initiative is so much more than just football. It's about breaking down barriers and creating opportunities:

- Providing boots so they can step onto the pitch with confidence.
- Helping them get bus passes so distance is never a limitation.
- Guiding them back into education when they feel lost.
- Fostering friendships that bring them back week after week.
- Empowering them to become the next generation of coaches and mentors, passing on the support they once received.

We are committed to growing this success. We're now expanding into primary schools, ensuring that younger children can benefit from the same sense of belonging and opportunity. Even more inspiring, some of our original participants have stepped up to lead and coach, proving that representation matters—when young people see others like them achieving, they believe they can too.

This programme isn't just changing the game—it's changing lives.

5.3 Empow-HER - Girls Engagement

The EMPOW-HER Girls Engagement Programme is a bespoke, wellbeing initiative designed specifically for senior girls and female staff. Developed and delivered by Anna and Caz from Nightmare Fitness, the programme has been thoughtfully structured to cover diverse fitness and wellness themes, ranging from high-intensity Hyrox sessions to yoga, Pilates variations, strength training with barbells and bands and mindfulness practices such as meditation. A distinctive aspect of the programme is its adaptability—each week the facilitators consult with the participants to tailor the content to their interests, ensuring high engagement and consistent attendance.

Impact and Key Elements:

 Consistent Engagement: With no fewer than 16 attendees from the senior girls (out of 18 enrolled) plus participation from 4 staff members (including the head teacher and deputy head teacher), the programme has become the most successful senior gym initiative in the school.

- Holistic Wellbeing: Participants benefit from a comprehensive approach that integrates physical fitness (e.g., boxing, functional training, yoga) with mental and emotional wellness (e.g., mindfulness sessions, daily affirmations and reflective activities via motivational card pulls).
- Empowerment Through Personalisation: Weekly feedback and tailored scheduling ensure the programme remains aligned with the girls' evolving interests, contributing to its status as a "must-attend" weekly event.
- Extended Duration & Future Plans: Originally planned as an 8-week programme, its significant impact has prompted discussions about extending it, even during exam periods, due to its positive influence on the girls' overall wellbeing and academic performance.

Overall, EMPOW-HER not only enhances physical fitness but also nurtures a supportive community, fostering resilience, motivation and a positive impact on both daily life and academic pursuits.

7 Dance: Transforming Girls' Participation in Activity

Dance has played a pivotal role in increasing girls' participation in physical activity across Glasgow schools. Now the second most participated activity, it has become a powerful tool for engagement and confidence-building.

The range of city-wide dance programmes—from Determined to Dance in early primary years to City of Dance and Acro, Dance, Cheer – Finale at the secondary level—ensures a continuous and inclusive pathway for young dancers from P1 through S6. These initiatives not only foster physical fitness and creativity but also empower girls to stay active in a way that is both enjoyable and inspiring.

With the support of PEPASS and Active Schools team, teachers, professional dance coaches, and industry leaders, dance continues to grow, breaking barriers and shaping a more engaged and confident generation of young performers.

7.1 Determined to Dance

For its 18th year, Glasgow City Council Education Services' PEPASS Team has continued to offer a City-wide Dance Programme to all Primary and ASL schools. This initiative specifically targets primary pupils (P1-P4) and is designed around a central curricular theme—whether that be transport, dinosaurs, the environment or another engaging topic.

Over an 8-week period, accredited dance coaches lead school sessions that introduce pupils to dance, fitness and movement. Each session is structured to build confidence, coordination, fitness, and flexibility, all culminating in a final show performance.

In addition to pupil benefits, class teachers work directly with the dance coaches, gaining valuable insights into dance coaching, choreography and dance fitness. The programme also offers Continuing Professional Development (CPD) training, complete with a structured dance DVD that serves as a step-by-step guide for planning and delivering dance sessions for all ages and abilities.

PEPASS Dance resources can also be found on the PEPASS Glow Blog. https://blogs.glowscotland.org.uk/gc/pepassglasgow/pepass-youtube/

Key elements of the competition include:

- City-Wide Participation: The competition comprises 16 local area heats where 125 school acts, representing around 2,000 performers, showcase their talents.
- Golden Ticket to the Finals: From these heats, judges select one golden ticket winner who secures a direct pass to the final event in June.

7.4 Scottish Country Dance Glasgow Primary Schools Programme

The programme, delivered in partnership between the PEPASS team and RSCDS (Royal Scottish Country Dance Society), offers primary schools comprehensive training and support to learn traditional Scottish Country dances. Schools then have the opportunity to showcase their newly acquired skills at a major event hosted at the historic City Chambers by the Lord Provost.

- Training & Support: Primary schools can sign up for professional guidance to learn and perfect a variety of Scottish Country dances.
- Main Event: The culminating celebration, known as the Primary Schools' Glasgow Day of Dance, is hosted at City Chambers, offering a stunning backdrop that inspires and engages the children.
- Participation: This year, approximately 17 schools participated with around 200 pupils, all showcasing dances.

Children performed traditional dances such as the Dashing White Sergeant, Charlestown Chasers and Flying Scotsmen, accompanied by live music.

 Support: The event was graced by dignitaries including the Lord Provost, Depute Lord Provost, local and national RSCDS representatives, with support from teachers, volunteers and the PEPASS team.

9.1 Glasgow Improvement Challenge - Raising Attainment through PE

PEPASS contributes to Strand 2 of Glasgow's Improvement Challenge (GIC): Improving children's health and wellbeing through nurturing approaches and increased participation in physical activity and sport.

Two (1.6FTE) PE Lead Officers (PELOs) are delivering a bespoke teaching and learning programme across selected GCC schools. This initiative aims to establish a sustainable model by upskilling staff with the knowledge, confidence, and skills necessary to deliver high-quality Physical Education. Emphasis is placed on enhancing planning, assessment, and pedagogy, ensuring that pupils develop not only physical competence and fitness but also cognitive skills and personal qualities through the Significant Aspects of Learning and Benchmarks.

The key outcomes of the programme include:

- Raising attainment through quality PE experiences.
- Enhancing staff knowledge, understanding, and delivery of effective PE.
- Increasing children's levels of physical activity.
- Boosting children's confidence and self-esteem.
- Developing children's physical literacy and improving fundamental movement skills.

In addition to the core elements of the programme, the PELOs provide a variety of professional development opportunities for all school staff. These include INSET sessions, Twilight workshops, and Spotlight events, which focus on both the practical and theoretical aspects of Physical Education. Furthermore, a dedicated PE Network Group has been established for teachers with a specific remit or specialism (NCCT), offering a platform to deepen their expertise and further enrich the delivery of PE across the schools.

9.2 PEPASS PE Counts is a resource designed to support the integration of numeracy within Physical Education, providing engaging and active learning experiences for primary pupils. The resource offers a variety of activities that:

- Embed numeracy concepts such as counting, sequencing, measurement and problem-solving into PE lessons.
- Encourage active learning to develop both physical and cognitive skills.
