Code of Conduct

1. Introduction

- 1.1 The Scottish public has a high expectation of those who serve on the boards of public bodies and Partnerships and the way in which they should conduct themselves in undertaking their duties. You must meet those expectations by ensuring that your conduct is above reproach.
- 1.2 As a member of Glasgow Community Planning Partnership, it is your responsibility to make sure that you are familiar with, and that your actions comply with, the provisions of this Code of Conduct.
- 1.3 You must observe the rules of conduct contained in this Code. You must not at any time advocate or encourage any action contrary to the Code of Conduct.
- 1.4 The Code has been developed in line with the key principles listed in Section 2 and provides additional information on how the principles should be interpreted and applied in practice. No Code can provide for all circumstances and if you are uncertain about how the rules apply, you should seek advice from support officers from Glasgow City Council.

2. Key Principles

- 2.1 The general principles upon which this Code of Conduct is based are:

Public Service

You have a duty to act in the interests of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership of which you are a member and in accordance with the core tasks of that body.

Selflessness

You have a duty to take decisions solely in terms of public interest. You must not act in order to gain financial or other material benefit for yourself, family or friends.

Integrity

You must not place yourself under any financial, or other, obligation to any individual or organisation that might reasonably be thought to influence you in the performance of your duties.

Objectivity

You must make decisions solely on merit when carrying out your duties.

Accountability and Stewardship

You are accountable for your decisions and actions to the public. You have a duty to consider issues on their merits, taking account of the views of others.

Openness

You have a duty to be as open as possible about your decisions and actions, giving reasons for your decisions and restricting information only when the wider public interest clearly demands.

Honesty

You have a duty to act honestly. You must declare any private interests relating to your public duties and take steps to resolve any conflicts arising in a way that protects the public interest.

Leadership

You have a duty to promote and support these principles by leadership and example, to maintain and strengthen the public's trust and confidence in the integrity of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership and its members in conducting public business.

Respect

You must respect fellow members of your Partnership and support staff, and the role they play, treating them with courtesy at all times.

Further information can be found at <http://www.public-standards.org.uk/>

3. General Conduct

Relationship with Support Staff

3.1 You will treat any support staff with courtesy and respect. It is expected that employees will show you the same consideration in return.

Personal Conduct of Partnership Members

3.2 All Partnership members must:

3.2.1 be prepared to account for their actions in an open and transparent manner

3.2.2 be prepared to accept responsibility for upholding Partnership decisions

3.2.3 avoid situations or actions which others could reasonably consider to involve improper conduct

3.2.4 not engage in any activities which could be detrimental to the interests of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership or which could bring it into disrepute

3.3 Partnership members must conduct themselves in a professional, respectful and courteous manner during Partnership meetings, and during all other meetings attended in connection with, or on behalf of, the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership.

3.4 No Partnership member shall at any time act in an aggressive or offensive manner towards another Partnership member or member of support staff, or otherwise act in a manner likely to bring the good name of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership into disrepute.

3.5 Partnership members must act in a way which is consistent with preserving and enhancing public confidence in the integrity of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership.

3.6 Partnership members must exercise authority in an even-handed way and avoid any behaviour which could reasonably be considered to amount to harassment, bullying, or discrimination.

- (a) isolated gifts of a trivial character the value of which must not exceed £50
  - (b) normal hospitality associated with your duties and which would reasonably be regarded as appropriate
  - (c) gifts received on behalf of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership
- 3.10 You must not accept any offer by way of gift or hospitality which could give rise to a reasonable suspicion of influence on your part to show favour, or disadvantage, to any individual or organisation. You should also consider whether there may be any reasonable perception that any gift received by your spouse or cohabitee or by any company in which you have a controlling interest, or by a Partnership of which you are a partner, can or would influence your judgement. The term “gift” includes benefits such as relief from indebtedness, loan concessions, or provision of services at a cost below that generally charged to members of the public. You must not accept repeated hospitality or gifts from the same source.
- 3.11 You must not accept any offer of a gift or hospitality from any individual or organisation which stands to gain or benefit from a decision your body may be involved in determining, or who is seeking to do business with your organisation, and which a person might reasonably consider could have a bearing on your judgement.

Confidentiality Requirements

- 3.12 There may be times when you will be required to treat discussions, documents or other information relating to the work of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership in a confidential manner. You may receive information of a private nature which is not yet public, or which perhaps would not be intended to be public. There are provisions in legislation on the categories of confidential and exempt information and you must always respect and comply with the requirement to keep such information private.
- 3.13 It is unacceptable to disclose in any manner any information to which you have privileged access, for example derived from a confidential document. In the case of other documents and information, you are requested to exercise your judgement as to what should or should not be made available to outside bodies or individuals. In any event, such information should never be used for the purpose of personal or financial gain, or used in such a way as to bring the public body into disrepute.

- a trustee
- an employee
- a voluntary worker
- a substantial shareholder
- an elected representative

- 4.3 Each of the members of the Partnership will be expected to ensure that the entries against their name in that register are at all times accurate, comprehensive and up-to-date.
- 4.4 The members of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership have a responsibility to ensure that they adopt a decision-making process which reflects the underlying principles of the Partnership and is best suited to advance the Partnership's priorities. In addition, it is essential that the process should be structured in such a manner as to minimise the risk of decision-making being distorted - or being seen to be distorted - through conflicts of interest.
- 4.5 A Partnership of this kind seeks to involve members who can offer expertise and experience from other organisations, whether in the public sector, the commercial sector, or the third sector.
- 4.6 The knowledge, skills, and experience which members acquire through their involvement in other organisations enhance the effectiveness of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership. For this reason, it would be inappropriate to impose provisions which unnecessarily exclude anyone from participation in the Partnership. Rather, the intention is to ensure that the existence of any conflict of interest (by reference to a wide definition) is identified at an early stage. This will allow proper consideration to be given to the level of materiality of any potential conflict of interest in the particular circumstances.
- 4.7 If a Partnership member is then considered to be subject to a material conflict of interest, this will affect the manner in which the decision relating to the particular matter at issue will require to be taken. In particular, to ensure that the decision is seen to have been made properly, there should be no input from the member or members who have a material conflict of interest in the matter.
- 4.8 All members of the Partnership will be expected to adhere both to the letter and the spirit of this Code of Conduct.

5. Conflicts and Declaration of Interests

- 5.1 Any Partnership member who has in any way, whether directly or indirectly, an interest in any project or activity for which the Partnership is proposing to procure funding (or any other funding streams that the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership is responsible for) must declare the nature of their interest at a meeting of the Partnership. In a similar manner, any member who is in any way, whether directly or indirectly, interested in the provision of research, consultancy, or other services must also declare such an interest at a Partnership meeting.
- 5.2 Such a declaration of interest should be made at the Partnership meeting at which the question of procuring funding, or the commissioning of services, is first considered. In the event that their interest only arose after the Partnership meeting at which the matter was first considered, the declaration of interest must be made at the next Partnership meeting. The declaration of interest will be recorded in the minutes.

- 5.3 A Partnership member should be regarded as having an interest in a project or activity (or in the provision of services) if:
- (a) their spouse or partner, sibling, son/daughter, or other close relative
  - (b) any firm of which they are a partner, or any company of which they are a director or substantial shareholder or employee
  - (c) any organisation of which they are a management committee member, trustee, employee, voluntary worker or elected representative has an interest in that project or activity (or, as the case may be, the provision of those services).

- 5.4 For these purposes, an interest may exist either directly or indirectly by virtue of some contractual relationship (e.g. a contract for the provision of consultancy or other services in relation to that project or activity).
- 5.5 In this context, perceived conflicts of interest may well extend beyond circumstances in which the Partnership member derives direct or indirect financial benefit. In recognition of this, the above provisions should be taken to require disclosure of any connection which a Partnership member has with another organisation whose interests may conflict with those of the body which carries on, or is proposing to carry on, the relevant project or activity. By way of example, this provision shall apply where a Partnership member has a connection with another organisation that is in competition with the body under discussion, in relation to a bid to develop a particular project. This is subject to the exception that the Partnership member shall not be required to disclose confidential information (but will require to disclose the existence of the conflict) where the connection involves a professional relationship in relation to which a duty of confidentiality subsists.
- 5.6 While advice may be sought from officers, it is the responsibility of individual members to decide whether or not a declaration should be made. Where a declaration is made the member should take no part in discussions and deliberations by the Partnership in relation to the matter at issue. The member concerned should consider the nature of the interest and decide whether it would be appropriate to leave the meeting during such discussions and deliberations relating to the matter at issue.
- 5.7 While an individual member may feel able to state truthfully that an interest would not influence their role in discussion or decision-making, they must always comply with the objective test, which is whether a member of the public, with knowledge of the relevant facts, would reasonably regard the interest as so significant that it is likely to prejudice the discussion or decision-making by the member.
- 5.8 In the interests of proper record keeping, the minutes of any meeting at which a disclosure of interest is made shall record that disclosure. The minutes shall also (if applicable) record the fact that the Partnership member concerned had not taken part in discussions or deliberations upon the matter at issue.

6. Lobbying

Introduction

- 6.1 In order for the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership to fulfil its commitment to being open and accessible, it needs to encourage participation by organisations and individuals in the decision-making process. Clearly however, the desire to involve the public and other interest groups in the decision-making process must take account of the need to ensure transparency and probity in the way in which the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership conducts its business.
- 6.2 You will need to be able to consider evidence and arguments advanced by a wide range of organisations and individuals in order to perform your duties effectively. Some of these organisations and individuals will make their views known directly to individual members. The rules in this Code set out how you should conduct yourself in your contacts with those who would seek to influence you. They are designed to encourage proper interaction between members of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership, those they represent, and interest groups.

Rules and Guidance

- 6.3 You must not, in relation to contact with any person or organisation that lobbies, do anything which contravenes this Code of Conduct or any other relevant rule of the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership.
- 6.4 You must not, in relation to contact with any person or organisation who lobbies, act in any way which could bring discredit upon the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership.
- 6.5 Where any individual or organisation approaches and/or attempts to unduly influence any decisions or recommendations that the Glasgow Community Planning Partnership has to make, you should inform support staff from Glasgow City Council.
- 6.6 If you have concerns about the approach or methods used by any person or organisation in their contacts with you, you must seek the guidance from support staff from Glasgow City Council.
