HSCP CITY LEVEL UPDATE

HSCP Partnership Matters
The HSCP's Partnership Matters briefing highlights some of the work that's happening across the HSCP with partners. It currently includes featured updates and announcements, news items and upcoming meetings and events.

The Autumn Edition can be found here.

For more information on Glasgow City HSCP visit the website for information about specific topics or work happening across the HSCP with partners – whether it be about current services, service developments or achievements to celebrate. You can also access the news articles and briefings/bulletins.

Glasgow City Health Improvement Training Calendar
The Glasgow City Health Improvement Training Calendar offers online and face-to-face training on a variety of health priorities and themes. Courses and online learning are facilitated by Glasgow City Heath Improvement or provided by external organisations and are free of charge, offered on a first come first served basis. These courses are aimed at practitioners supporting people and communities across the life span in Glasgow City. The training calendar can be found here.

Ask Tell: Save a Life
Health Improvement staff have been delivering Ask Tell: Save a Life, suicide prevention awareness sessions to all Scottish Fire and Rescue Service staff in Glasgow City, reaching all 55 watches, as well as day-duty staff and area management teams.

This work has been developed in close collaboration with the Group Commander who has responsibility for mental health and suicide prevention across the SFRS service.

The programme has been tailored to meet the needs of both operational and non-operational staff, ensuring the content is relevant to their roles, experiences and responsibilities as first responders.

This is being delivered through a combination of online and face-to-face sessions. This approach has enabled consistent access to training across the city, helping to build confidence in having conversations about suicide and supporting the development of a compassionate, suicide-safer workforce.

The programme commenced in August and will conclude in December, with more than 350 staff expected to be trained.

Tackling Drug Stigma is Everyone's Business
The latest edition of the NHSGGC Alcohol and Drug Snapshot has a focus on Drug Stigma. The Snapshot can be accessed here.

The Snapshot has a focus on promoting the Tackling Drug Stigma is Everyone's Business Toolkit and includes a link to a highlights video from the launch event in July 2026.

People who use drugs, people in recovery, families and communities all experience stigma. Recognising stigma is the first step to tackling it. When you witness stigmatising behaviour, you have a choice about the action you take. Use the toolkit to take action today.

Promoting Wellbeing, Inclusion and Belonging for People Seeking Asylum and Refugees

The Health Improvement Team organised the online event “Promoting Wellbeing, Inclusion and Belonging for People Seeking Asylum and Refugees” on 20 August to increase awareness of the services and support available to people seeking asylum and refugees in Glasgow and to strengthen partnership working across sectors.

The event attracted 225 attendees from more than 100 organisations representing the health, social care, local authority, education, housing, third sector, community and voluntary sectors. Participants heard presentations from Refuweegee, Glasgow City HSCP Asylum and Refugee Health Team, Glasgow Psychological Trauma Service (The Anchor), and CWIN, providing valuable information on the range of support available to asylum seekers and refugees across the city.

The event received extremely positive feedback, with attendees highlighting the informative presentations, valuable networking opportunities, and increased awareness of local services and resources. Participants also reported a greater understanding of the importance of collaborative working and the role that different organisations play in promoting wellbeing, inclusion and belonging for people seeking asylum and refugees. The event successfully strengthened connections between organisations and professionals, supporting a more coordinated approach to meeting the needs of refugee and asylum-seeking communities in Glasgow.

The next online event, scheduled for 20 October from 10:00 am to 12:00 pm, is entitled "Families and Diverse Communities: Understanding Social Work Services in Glasgow."
The event aims to increase awareness and understanding of social work services among families and diverse communities across Glasgow. It will help participants better understand the role of social work services, the support available to diverse families, and how community organisations and practitioners can access appropriate pathways for assistance, particularly when supporting people seeking asylum and refugees.
This event is particularly relevant for professionals and volunteers working with diverse communities, including those supporting people seeking asylum and refugees.

North East Youth Network Hubcap Meeting
A total of 32 attendees participated in the September Hubcap meeting at Barmulloch Residents Centre. The session included presentations from Scottish Fire & Rescue Community Action Team, Springburn Scottish Fire & Rescue and Medics Against Violence. Attendees actively engaged and contributed to the Connection Wall activity. This was designed to build relationships, identify shared interests and goals, and encourage collaboration and networking. Through reflecting on what they could offer, what support they were looking for, and opportunities for collaboration, participants created a visual map of connections across the group. The activity generated lively discussion, helped identify common themes and areas of overlap, and enabled participants to make new connections, explore potential partnerships, and consider opportunities for future joint working.
A newsletter summarising the key discussions and outcomes from the meeting is here.

The next Hubcap meeting will take place on Tuesday 24th November 9.45am to 12.00pm, at The Calvay Centre, 16 Calvay Road, Barlanark, G33 4RE.

For further information, please contact chloe.frew@nhs.scot.

North East Mental Health and Suicide Prevention Network

Community Activity and Engagement at Parkhead Hub

In the Hub's first year, there were 9,500 individuals participating in 341 wide ranging pop up and community programmes from recovery sessions, carers groups and dementia cafes to one to one support sessions, women's groups, early years play, after school clubs and creative activities.
An annual Community Network Day hosted over 60 third sector stallholders with more than 300 local services and residents attending. The focus is on cross service collaboration and community networking - see press article attached here. The next one is scheduled for 27 May 2027.
Current highlights at Parkhead Hub include:

- SAMH's The Nook launched their ' My Recovery Action Plan' at the Parkhead Hub following on from the new and successful Merchant City location
- Weekly Play Cafe for early years with 100 families coming through the programme in its first year and up to 60 participants each week
- Skills Development Scotland and Enable Works operating from the Parkhead Hub supporting young adults and ASN groups get into training and work
- Planning for an Active Staff programme at the Hub launching on 5 November 2026

Development Programmes
The North East Locality Engagement Forum continues to meet 4 times each year with topical input from diverse services including recovery, caring and community links.
A Network Task Group meets every fortnight online with over 120 representatives from services across the Hub and wider North East community. As well as networking and meeting new people and projects from across the HSCP, local and third sector organisations the group also plans thematic calendar events. Examples include National Mental Health Day, Falls Awareness Week and Dementia Action Week.

WARD LEVEL UPDATE

Bowel Cancer UK: Early Diagnosis Programme
Glasgow City is supporting Bowel Cancer UK's Early Diagnosis Programme. Bowel cancer is treatable and curable when diagnosed early. The Early Diagnosis Programme aims to engage with local communities across Glasgow to raise awareness of the symptoms of bowel cancer, promote screening uptake and empower people to see their GP if they have any symptoms.

People aged between 50 and 74 in NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde are sent a bowel screening test in the post every two years. It's quick and easy to do and can help spot bowel cancer before symptoms start, when it's most treatable. However, only 60.3% of eligible people in NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde complete their bowel cancer screening test – the lowest uptake of any health board in Scotland – and we want to change that.

The year-long programme will run until May 2027. Programme activity will be focused on postcode areas with lower-than-average bowel screening uptake, specifically G4 and G33 for North East. Our target neighbourhoods within these postcodes are Cranhill, Riddrie, Calton, Townhead and Port Dundas.

As part of the programme, we are offering free bowel cancer awareness talks and information stands for community groups, organisations and workplaces. Our awareness talks last up to an hour and are delivered by our team of trained, local volunteers. They can be delivered in-person or online.

To find our more, or to book a talk or stand for your group or workplace please visit our website: Bowel cancer awareness talks and stands or email earlydiagnosis@bowelcanceruk.org.uk
