North West Glasgow Voluntary Sector Network update noted.

6 There was submitted and noted a report by Martina Johnstone-Gray, North West Glasgow Voluntary Sector Network (NWGVSN) providing an update on its work, advising that

(1) Heart of Scotstoun Community Centre had been unsuccessful in applying for funding from the Glasgow Communities Fund, which could result in vital local services being reduced, and the centre potentially being at risk of closure; and

(2) there had been concerns expressed by local groups that local geography had not been taken into consideration when funds were being allocated.
