Framing our research...

How might we we listen to, communicate with, include and inspire every citizen to take part?

We will be researching how we might...

Create a platform to hear local voices celebrate the things we are good at And find opportunities for positive change

Deliver a true transfer of power to local people enabling decision making with impact

Better understand local priorities and what people want and need

Create a model that is more informal, accessible and transparent using creative approaches have wider inclusion, better representation and more people involved

Where will we focus

- Our initial research and co-design project will focus on 3 wards in the city - Greater Pollok, Canal and Calton
- We will also look to engage city wide with all stakeholders using 1-2-1 interviews, workshops and events as well as utilising existing enagement plans and projects.
