Item 4 – Common Good
Question 2	Bailie Kavanagh referred to the Cathkin Braes project/contract and asked when the last time this agreement was looked at?
Answer	The original lease was negotiated and entered in to in 2012, and is not due to be formally renegotiated until 2032 at which point the contract states parties may enter into discussions about the future of the turbine before the contract end date of 2037. Officers continue to have regular dialogue with the leaseholder and discussions on commercial terms as required. Given the size and type of land that is under lease, it is an appropriate commercial arrangement to have a low level base rent with a profit share. This is an industry standard for property that does not fit within a more standard benchmarking model such as office, industrial and commercial spaces.

	The equity share for GCC is 50% of revenue (after all costs have been covered). The average annual equity share over the last 4 years was £514,000.
Question 3	Councillor Mitchell asked for further information on the 9 leases that were expired and how many were out for renewal?
Answer	• 59 Byres Rd – Terms now agreed for a new lease • 61 Byres Rd – CPGI to enter into discussions with existing tenant, Byers Road and Lanes BID before issuing an instruction to agent to negotiate terms for a new lease. • 53 Byres Rd – Terms now agreed for a new lease • 415/417 Great Western Rd – Passed to agent to negotiate a new lease • 421 Great Western Rd – With agent to re-market • 425 Great Western Rd – Passed to agent to negotiate a new lease • 431 Great Western Rd – With agent to re-market • 433 Great Western Rd – Terms agreed for a new lease • 439 Great Western Rd – Passed to agent to negotiate a new lease
